

March LifeCare Campus - Healing Starts Here.

July 1, 2010

Governor Arnold Schwarzenegger
State Capitol Building
Sacramento, California 95814

Dear Governor Schwarzenegger,

On behalf of one of California's business successes, we want to take this opportunity to commend you for your vision in creating GoED -- promoting innovation, inspiration, and opportunity. The idea of not only attracting business to California from other states and countries by streamlining government red tape and promoting economic growth through innovation and entrepreneurship, we believe is foundational to the California Dream.

As the founder and developer of California's first "health and wellness city" – a 200-acre medical campus, our team was invited to attend the grand opening of the GoED office a day after our development and disposition agreement was signed on April 7, 2010. This letter is a giant thank you to Director Joel Ayala.

We have been so impressed with Joel's leadership that we wanted to give you some specific statements about his energy, his focus on creating jobs, and his efforts to rebuild California's economy:

- He was the first to introduce us to the iBank's 501(c)3 Revenue Bonds and Infrastructure Financing programs paving the way to additional resources beyond our $17 million in RZFB funds;
- His visit on May 10th with the March Joint Powers Authority, MHD, and community leaders was a clear sign to our regional leaders that the governor's office is serious about economic growth in our region;
- His participation in the groundbreaking ceremony in June once again signaled the importance that this administration places on job creation by the private sector;

- His early introduction and follow-up with the iHub has sparked new partnerships that are now working together to look at economic development as a regional effort.

We appreciate your letter of commendation in support of the project and look forward to other announcements from your office as the project moves forward.

Sincerely,
